Analytic Writing Assessment

Analytic scoring is based on the premise that it is possible to define the components of good writing and that a piece of writing may be excellent in one respect while revealing significant weaknesses in others. For example, a paper may be mechanically sound with exceptional vocabulary but weak in the areas of ideas and organization.

Analytic scoring involves isolating and defining the characteristics of writing and then scoring these characteristics individually. This approach is appropriate when measuring the students' abilities to deal with the individual components of writing: ideas and content, organization, voice and tone, word choice, sentence structure, and writing conventions (punctuation, etc.). The results of the writing assessment offer students specific information about their strengths and weaknesses and provide instructors with specific, comprehensive guidelines for instruction.

A scoring rubric (guideline) is used to analyze each student's paper based on the following six traits: ideas and content, organization, voice/tone, word choice, sentence structure, and writing conventions.

Ideas and Content: The degree to which the paper clarifies its purpose and conveys ideas that hold the reader's attention.

Organization: The degree to which the writer develops the central idea or theme and organizes the material to enhance the reader's understanding of the topic.

Voice/Tone: The degree to which the writer seems sincere, candid, and committed to the topic; that is, the style in which the writer speaks to the reader.

Word Choice: The degree to which the writer selects interesting and precise words to convey the intended message.

Sentence Structure: The degree to which the writer uses strong and varied sentence structure.

Writing Conventions: The degree to which the writer uses correct grammar, capitalization, punctuation, usage, spelling, and paragraphing.

Two raters score each paper independently. A score may range from 1 to 5. The two scores are averaged, and the result is the paper's final score. The mean score is 2.5.

The composite score is an average of the component scores.

Terra Nova, Third Edition

The Alaska Department of Education and Early Development require testing of students in Grades 5 and 7 using the Terra Nova, Third Edition achievement test. Administered in February of 2011, the TN3 tests in the areas of Reading, Language Arts, and Mathematics. The district has also chosen to test the supplemental, Science, Social Studies & Spelling tests.

The Terra Nova, Third Edition is a norm-referenced test, is designed to be used with a national student audience so that test scores for a fifth or seventh grade student in our district can be compared to the scores of fifth & seventh graders throughout the country. The district wide group scores (which are included in this report) and the individual student scores (which are sent home to parents) are reported as a percentile score. Both group and individual percentile scores are based upon the number of right answers in each section of the test.

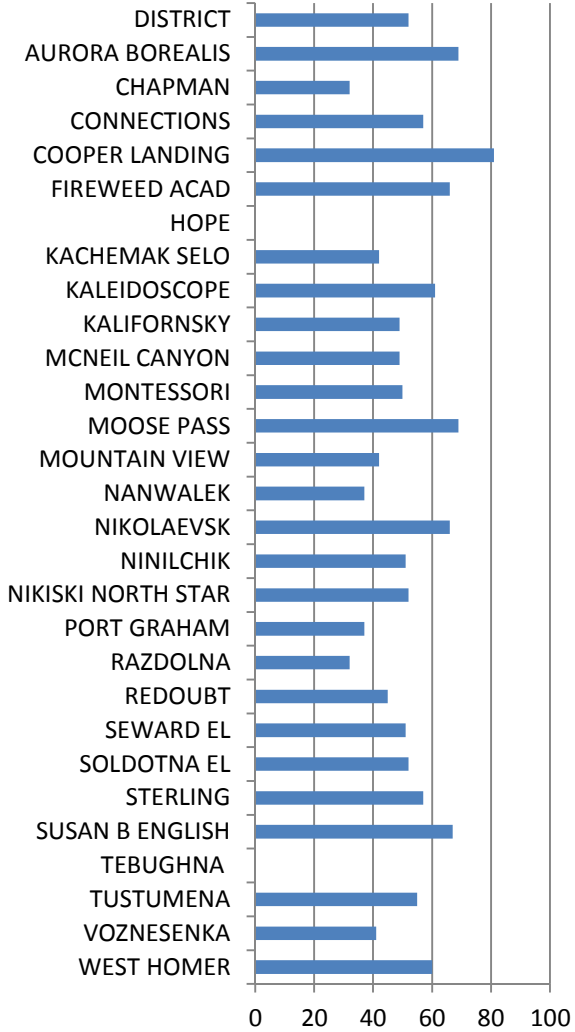

National Percentile (NP) - the percentile of students in a norm group whose scores fall below a given scale score at the national level. For example, a student that scored at the 65th percentile in Reading indicates that the student scored equal to or above 65% of students nationwide in Reading. National percentiles of 25 – 75 are considered to be in the average range.

The normal curve equivalent (NCE) scale, ranges from 1 to 99, coincides with the national percentile scale at 1, 50 and 99. NCEs have many of the same characteristics of percentile ranks, but have the additional advantage of being based on an equal-interval scale. The difference between two successive scores on the scale has the same meaning throughout the scale. This property allows for meaningful comparisons among different achievement tests. The Mean Normal Curve Equivalent (MNCE) is computed by adding the Normal Curve Equivalent scores of all students in a group, then dividing by the number of students in the group.

Standards Based Assessments and High School Graduation Qualifying Exams

Alaska Standards Based Assessments and the Alaska High School Graduation Qualifying Examination are state mandated assessments consisting of three tests: reading, writing, and mathematics. Students take the Standards Based Assessments in grades 3 through 10. Students have multiple opportunities to take the High School Graduation Qualifying Examination beginning in grade 10.

The Standards Based Assessments and the High School Graduation Qualifying Examination are a type of criterion-referenced test. The questions on each test are based on the Alaska Student Performance Standards in reading, writing, and mathematics. There are three types of questions in each of the three tests: multiple-choice, short constructed response, and extended constructed response.

Science Standards Based Assessment is also a criterion-referenced test for grades 4, 8 and 10. The questions on each test are based on the Alaska Student Performance Standards/Grade Level Expectations in Science. The Science SBA contains multiple-choice, short constructed response and extended constructed response questions.

Work Keys

2010 - 2011

4AAC.06.717(b) requires assessments of foundational workplace skills for all 11th grade students beginning in school year 2010-2011.

The three skill areas for assessments are: Applied Mathematics, Locating Information and Reading for Information.

The 11th grade assessment vendor is ACT and the assessments are called WorkKeys. WorkKeys are criterion-referenced tests based on foundational skills needed for workforce readiness and were developed by ACT with input from employers, labor organizations, educators and policymakers.

Students who score at least a Level 3 on all three WorkKeys tests earn a nationally recognized credential called the ACT National Career Readiness Certificate (NCRC). If the lowest score on any one test is Level 3, the student earns a Bronze NCRC, if the lowest score is a Level 4, a Silver NCRC; Level 5 is a Gold NCRC and Level 6 is a Platinum NCRC.

ACT/SAT Testing

The ACT[®] test measures high school students' general educational development and their ability to complete college-level work. The multiple-choice tests cover four skill areas: English, mathematics, reading, and science. The Writing Test, which is optional, measures skill in planning and writing a short essay.

The SAT is a standardized assessment of the critical reading, mathematical reasoning, and writing skills students have developed over time and that they need to be successful in college. Each year, more than two million students take the SAT. Nearly every college in America uses the test as a common and objective scale for evaluating a student's college readiness. While high school grades are a very useful indicator of how students will perform in college, there is great variation in grading standards and course rigor within and across high schools.

In order to qualify for the newly adopted Alaska Performance Scholarship – Collegiate Award, students must take either the ACT or SAT and achieve a score of 21 or higher on the ACT or 1450 or higher on the SAT.
