BOARD COMMENTS:

(8:48:03 PM)

Mrs. Hilts acknowledged that there will be change in the District next year and that it will not be comfortable. She reported that she attended a budget hearing and noted that Russian village school parents support student graduation.

Mrs. Brown expressed appreciation for the comments from Moose Pass parents and added that small schools are to be no different than other rural area schools. She challenged the Board to look for ways to adjust the budget so that Moose Pass School will not lose a teacher next year. She added that if all students are not provided with the basics, then there is a serious inequity issue that parallels the problems the District has with the State of Alaska.

Mrs. Downing reported that she attended the budget hearing and appreciated hearing from Razdolna School parents. She reported on visits to McNeil Canyon Elementary, Razdolna School and Paul Banks Elementary. She added that Razdolna School and McNeil Canyon Elementary use bottled water for drinking and also for washing hands at Razdolna School. She reported that teachers are telling her that, in spite of the desperate funding situation, the money always becomes available. She encouraged teachers to contact legislators and tell them about the impact of the lack of adequate education funding.

Mr. Hatch stated that he was pleased to hear that the Kenai Youth Facility and Spring Creek High are doing a good job with imprisoned youth. In regards to past field trip policy discussions, he related a story from a parent whose daughter participated in an international field trip to Normandy which was organized by Kenai Central High School. He noted that the parent felt that the trip was extremely valuable to his daughter and the other students. He recommended that Board members take the time to observe a Battle of the Books competition.

Ms. Hohl thanked the Moose Pass Elementary parents for their comments. She reported that Moose Pass Elementary also uses bottled water for drinking. She reported that she attended the budget hearing and the Site Council/Parent Group Training. She asked the Board if she could give a short worksession on the Public School Land Trust in Alaska. She asked the Board about receiving a copy of the Policy Manual on compact disk.

After conferring with the Board, Mrs. Mullins announced that Ms. Hohl may conduct a half-hour worksession on the Alaska Public School Land Trust. Mrs. Mullins pointed out that the District Policy Manual is available online. Mr. Szymoniak reported that the search feature has been fixed and offered to assist Ms. Hohl in using the online Policy Manual.

Miss Ames expressed appreciation for how much Alaskans care about education. She reported that students from all over the state have emailed her about wanting change within their communities regarding education. She stated that she appreciated the comments regarding the lack of music education in Seward schools. She thanked those who provided comments regarding staffing and the Kenai Conversation. She congratulated the Golden Apple Award recipients.

Dr. Anderson expressed disappointment regarding the proposed budget reductions. He stated that, although he felt that the negotiated agreements were reasonable, they may be difficult to afford and the Board may be forced to increase the number of students in classrooms. He reported that Mr. Syverson stated that Soldotna High School will lose a vocational education program, a language arts teacher, a math teacher, half of a science teacher, half of a social studies teacher and will likely share the music and art teacher with the Soldotna Middle School. He expressed concern that the Soldotna Middle School may lose the Read 180 Program and related a story about a student who has been successful in the program. He stated that he cannot tolerate the cuts the Board is forced to make and even though the Board will try to be fair, every school in the District will suffer.

Mrs. Crawford stated that budget cuts get worse every year and suggested that the public help lobby the legislature for more education funding. She reminded those present that Alaska is the richest state in the union with a $39 billion dollar savings account which should be used to adequately fund education. She reported that she attended the budget hearing. She stated that, although field trips are expensive and are a liability, they are valuable teaching tools and reported that during an upcoming field trip students will go to the United Nations in New York and participate in a model United Nations experience. She suggested that the Board carefully review the field trip policy and make good decisions. She stated that she has visited five schools and the Kenai Job Center to fulfill one of the Board's 2006-2007 goals. She stated that she has submitted a report of the school and agency visits to Dr. Peterson and reminded the other Board members to do the same.

Mrs. Mullins reminded the Board to turn in their school visit reports to Dr. Peterson. She announced that Mr. Hatch, Mr. Anderson, Ms. Hohl, and Miss Ames will attend the AASB Legislative Fly-In in Juneau.
