Pete spoke about the writer's workshop that took place last week. All students, K-6th, participated and had we had encouraging responses from the students and staff. Pete mentioned the festivities that are planned for this week. Between mini workshops, gingerbread cookie decorating, pajama day and a holiday movie there is much fun to be had. We finished our contribution to the Homer Food Pantry today with making 100 soup kits. Each grade participated by measuring out ingredients and creating holiday cards for the recipients of the soup kits. Pete will deliver them to the food pantry at the end of this week along with the additional canned/ boxed foods that the students have donated since the beginning of December.
