Financial Plans for Financing College Education:

Estimated Cost of Attending Name of School - 2015-2016 (two semesters)

Tuition -	$6000
Room and Board -	$6000
Books -	$1000
Other Supplies -	$500
Personal Expenses -	$1000
Transportation -	$1000

Total Estimated Cost - $15,500 per year

I plan to work during the summers and during the school year to pay for room and board. I have saved my Permanent Fund Dividends in order to help pay tuition, books, supplies, personal expenses. My parents will help pay for some of my room/board and transportation during my four to five years of secondary education. I hope to only use student loans to cover the cost of remaining tuition.

Any scholarships that I am fortunate to receive will help limit the amount of student loans that are required for me to attend college. Scholarships would help me obtain a college education without being burdened with excess debt when I graduate.

I plan to attend either Washington State University or Adams State College.

The figures outlined below reflect approximate costs per year at either institution.

SUMMARY OF ANTICIPATED EXPENSES FOR THE YEAR

TUITION AND FEES.	$ 5,434

It is estimated that costs to attend one of the colleges of my choice for four years will total at least $50,000 with costs continuing to increase and the current rate.

I expect to meet these expenses with personal savings from summer employment, Alaska Student Loans, financial aid and scholarships, and help from my parents.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] UNIVERSITY'S 1999-2000 EXPECTED COSTS

TUITION & FEES:	$3,189
ROOM & BOARD:	$4,425
BOOKS & SUPPLIES:	$600
TRANSPORTATION:	$1,600
PERSONAL EXPENSES:	$900
TOTAL:	$10,714

I plan to finance my college education for the 1999/2000 school year through savings, parents contribution, summer earnings and financial aid as follows:

Savings:	$3,600
Summer Earnings/Alaska Permanent Fund Check:	$2,000
Parents Contribution:	$2,000
Financial Aid (loans, scholarships, grants):	$3,100

How will you finance your education?

Ever since I was a small child, I have been fortunate to have my parents save my permanent dividend funds and put them into an investment account. In this account, I have almost $10,000 which I can use over a four year period for college. This will be an immense help, but not nearly enough to cover the total yearly cost of over $17,000. I anticipate I will have an actual need of over $6,000 per year.

I am also counting on my parents help by providing me with about $1,000 per year and I am planning to work every summer and raise at least $2,000. After a couple months at college, I hope to be involved in a work-study program that will be an additional aid. I have also applied for every scholarship which I am eligible and hope to receive some of these to help pay for my schooling.

However, I also have an additional cost of transportation. It will cost about $2,100 per year to fly from Alaska [REDACTED] three times per year: Christmas, Spring Break, and for summer work.

I am very enthusiastic and anxious for college. I believe I will learn many things I can use anywhere in life as well as in my occupation. "Where there is a will, there is a way" has been a saying that was instilled in me for quite some time. I believe in this saying as I contemplate financing my education. I can always take out a loan but would like this to be a final option. I would greatly appreciate you committee to consider my financial need. I assure you that your funds will reap huge dividends in the future as I will use the funds wisely and in a way that will make your committee pleased that you helped me.

Greeting:

Our son, Kevin Doe, plans to attend the University of Iowa and major in computer science. Costs for college as a non-resident at the University of Iowa are estimated to be $8720 for tuition and fees, $4306 for room and board, and $1130 for books and publications. This totals to over $14,000 per year and does not include travel to and from Alaska plus incidental expenses which could easily bring the total to over $17,000. Kevin intends to use his savings and to work summers but that will amount to somewhere around $5000.

My wife and I both work in the field of business and have good paying jobs. We will support Kevin and his quest for education as much as possible, yet that might not be near enough for his first year of college because of a financially difficult past year. Kevin's grandparents' needs required several trips by members of the family between Alaska and Ohio. One grandparent died in August and the other in early January. Our family spent over $12,000 in travel expenses alone last year. We were also faced with paying medical and funeral expenses which totaled over $15,000. We would appreciate any financial help for which Kevin may be eligible.

We have attached a financial statement that estimates our son's financial need.

Re: Parent's Financial Statement

To Whom It May Concern:

The following is an outline of parent's financial resources and obligations.

Monthly Take Home Pay (Net):

Father:	$ 2,700
Mother:	2,022
Total:	$ 4,722

Monthly Financial Obligations:

Mortgage	$ 987.01
Insurance	476.60
Loans	1,195.94
Utilities, Food, etc.	900.00
Financial support for 2 children currently in college	500.00
Total:	$ 4,059.55

I believe the above figures speak for themselves. While [REDACTED] and I do earn adequate salaries, we have considerable monthly obligations. This obligation will increase significantly next fall when [REDACTED] enters college.

Therefore, we are seeking financial aid in the form of scholarships.

Thank you for consideration of this application.

Sincerely
[REDACTED]
