

David Henson Employee Recognition

David Henson has been part of the Kenai Peninsula Borough School District team since 1993 when he was hired as a Micro Computer Technician for the Data Processing Department. David is currently employed as Programmer/Analyst for the District.

It was because of his abilities that the District chose to install network wiring in all schools district-wide. It would be honest to say that David was the "brain behind the network wiring." David also successfully guided nearly all aspects of the first year implementation of the tech program. He supervised the summer manpower; overseeing placement of more than 750 PCs at seven first year schools.

According to David's supervisor, Jim White, "It is hard to imagine any single employee having made more of a lasting impact on our District than David Henson." It is for this very reason that we are here tonight to pay special recognition to David Henson. Congratulations David and thank you very much for your outstanding service to the District.
