Mrs. Julianne Super

Mrs. Julianne Super is a “super” volunteer in the classroom, with cocurricular activities, and school events. “I have the opportunity to work with many fantastic parents and community members who volunteer in our school, but one person stands out above the rest,” said Kari Dendurent, Homer Middle School principal. “I’ve have had the opportunity to know Julianne over the past three years, as well as two of her children who have attended HMS. Julianne has worked in so many areas of our school, faculty members each wanted to reflect about her volunteerism.”

Dan Calhoun, 8th grade math and algebra teacher says, “She is always so positive and cheerful. Julianne has been volunteering in the Homer schools for the past twelve years. At Paul Banks Elementary School she performed many classroom duties and tasks. At West Homer Elementary she volunteered most of her time in the math classroom. At Homer Middle School, she volunteers in the math classroom as a tutor. She is reliable, consistent and great with students! I appreciate her clear, concise and accurate assistance for all students at all ability levels. In addition, she is willing and capable to do any task she is asked to assist with.”

Jen Booz, 8th grade science teacher and cross country running coach states, “She has volunteered for cross country for both years when her son, Andy, was here. She is always willing to do whatever is asked—no matter what. For our home meets, she often took on the role of volunteer coordinator since I couldn’t be with the students all of the time. She even ended up assigning jobs to parents who showed up to help. Julianne was able to run the finish line table, which is the most challenging job of the meet, and involves taking runners’ names and places, then matching them with their times. She also provided snacks for the runners and helped clean up after the meets.”

Amy Johnson, band teacher shares, “Julianne has been a great help to the Homer Middle School Band program for the past five years. She comes in to help copy music and programs for all of our concerts, as well as helping to sort uniforms, music, and anything else as needed. She does the webcast for every single concert that Homer Middle School puts on.”

Nurse Janette states, “She will come and assist at the drop of a hat. She is amazing! She has helped with many health screenings and is always the first person I call. She even helps with picture day! Plus, Julianne is the first person Marilyn, our school secretary, calls. And, ‘we fight over her.’”

The Kenai Peninsula Borough School District Board of Education is proud to recognize Mrs. Julianne Super for her dedication to the students of the school district, past, present, and future.
